Radiation Tests Slated On Monkeys

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Eighty monkeys will be flown Saturday to the Atomic Energy Commission's Oak Ridge, Tenn., facility for tests in proton radiation.

Space scientists have been conducting a study in radiation to determine if astronauts face a danger from radiation while on space flights.

A spokesman for the School of Aerospace Medicine here said the monkeys, none of which has ever been in space, will be radiated with protons.

Auto Makers Report Sales And Profit Up

Record Levels Reached In First Half of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—The big three automakers are earning more money than ever before.

General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. reported Thursday that profits and sales soared to record levels in the second quarter and first half of this year. Ford Motor Co. issued a similar report earlier in the week.

General Motors' sales and earnings were the highest ever reported by any company. Its chairman, Frederic C. Donner, and president, John F. Gordon, attributed the surge to expansion in economic activity and resulting consumer confidence.

The Big Three's reports of great prosperity came while they were negotiating with the United Auto Workers on new labor contracts.

General Motors earned $602 million, equal to $2.11 a share, in the three months ended June 30, compared with $464 million, or $1.62 a share, in the second quarter of 1963. The previous record was $536 million, or $1.87 a share, in the 1964 first quarter.

First half earnings of the No. 1 automaker totaled $1,138,000,000, or $3.98 a share, compared with $878 million, or $3.07 a share, in the 1963 first half, which was the previous record.

Sales totaled $5,082,000,000 in the 1964 second quarter against $4,516,000,000 a year earlier. First half sales of $9,868,000,000 compared with $8,663,000,000 in the 1963 first half, the former record.

Chrysler, third ranking automaker, earned $60.6 million, equal to $1.61 a share, in the three months ended June 30 against $41.7 million, or $1.13 a share, a year earlier. First half earnings totaled $1,144 million, or $3.05 a share, compared with $77.9 million, or $2.11 a share, in the 1963 first half.

Chrysler sales in the second quarter rose to $1,071,000,000 from $890 million a year earlier and in the first half $2,062,000,000 from $1,687,000,000.

Ford's profits in the second quarter amounted to $179.7 million, equal to $1.62 a share, on sales of $2,672,600,000. This compares with $155.9 million or $1.41 a share, on sales of $2,544,700,000.

New Sky Spy Plane Revealed By Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson announced today development of a new high-speed plane which he said would provide worldwide reconnaissance ability.

Johnson told a televised news conference that the new aircraft flies at three times the speed of sound at altitudes above 80,000 feet with the most modern reconnaissance equipment.

The system will be used during periods of hostilities and at other times when potentially hostile forces are confronted, he said.

He said the plane is heavier than its predecessors and therefore can carry more equipment. The aircraft will begin operational testing in early 1965, the President said.

The President said it would be a $1-billion program.

He said deployment of the new plane to the Strategic Air Command would begin soon after testing in 1965.

Senate Nod 2-1; Plan to House

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's bill to carry out his war on poverty has won Senate approval by nearly a 2-1 margin.

The battleground now shifts to the House, where the Rules Committee is expected to vote early next week on a similar proposal to be considered the following week.

The measure had come under heavy attack from Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the Republican presidential nominee, as a "hodgepodge of programs treating only the results, not the causes, of poverty."

"It seems designed to achieve the single objective of securing votes," he said in a minority report on the bill.

Although Goldwater did not enter into the two days of Senate debate on the measure, a majority of the 33 Republican senators joined him in voting against it.

On the 62-33 roll call Thursday night that sent the bill to the House, 52 Democrats voted for and 11 against passage. The Republican line-up was 10 for and 22 against. Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., the only absent GOP member, was announced as against passage.

Southern Democrats split about evenly. Before the $947.5 million bill was passed, two states rights amendments were adopted giving governors a veto over establishment of some of the proposed projects in their states.

A third, which would have let governors veto aid for community action programs, was defeated by a single vote.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, also won adoption of an amendment shaving $15 million off the total originally authorized for the first year. This was cut from $50 million proposed for loans and grants to combat poverty in rural areas.

But the many-sided bill emerged from the Senate substantially intact.

The bill would authorize $412.5 million for programs designed to increase the education, training and work experience of young men and women. Included (Please turn to page 4, col. 8)

Defends State Legislative Apportioning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Missouri's present system of legislative reapportionment is defended by Speaker Thomas D. Graham of the Missouri House in a statement submitted to a House Judiciary subcommittee.

Graham submitted his statement Wednesday but did not testify. The subcommittee is considering proposals to offset a recent ruling of the Supreme Court.

The court held that all members elected to the same house of a state legislature must represent approximately the same number of persons.

Graham said the proposals, including ones for a constitutional amendment, would permit Missouri to continue "with its historic 'Little Federal' system which best meets our peculiar needs and would permit other states to shape their legislatures to meet their own particular needs."

In defending Missouri's system, Graham advanced a number of arguments, including:

1. It is an erroneous assumption that population is the only basis for representation.

2. Regional and geographic representation is in accord with the American system.

3. Counties provide the most practical basis of representation for geographic, economic and community interests. (Each Missouri county has at least one representative.)

4. Additional representation is not necessary for city governments to obtain passage of legislation they feel they need.

5. Basing both houses on population would be extremely detrimental to the state as a whole.

6. The Legislature should be and is organized so as to protect both urban and rural interests.

Mother Pleads Guilty To Starving Daughter

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A 24-year-old mother of seven pleaded guilty Thursday to manslaughter by neglect in the starvation death of her baby.

Mrs. Anita Louise Abernathy was sentenced to two years in prison and was released on a two-year bench parole.

The baby, Rhoda Renee Abernathy, 3½ months, died April 9 of malnutrition. The mother said she didn't have anything to feed the infant.

She will resume custody of her six other children, ranging in age from 1 to 8 years.

Her husband, Alfred Joseph Abernathy, 24, pleaded guilty to the same charge July 1. His sentencing was deferred.

Versailles Man, Tipton Woman

Crash Kills 2

A two-car crash in a heavy rainstorm killed a Versailles man and a Tipton woman, and seriously injured the woman's three-year-old daughter about 7 a. m. Friday.

The accident occurred on Highway 5 in Moniteau County approximately 1.2 miles south of Tipton.

Killed were Forrest Gail Marple, 24, Route 1, Versailles, driver of one of the cars and Mrs. Nita Mae Branch, 21, driver of the other car.

Mrs. Branch died at Bothwell Hospital at 12:40 p. m.

Her daughter, Sherry Lynn, sustained a fractured arm and head lacerations, but her condition was not believed dangerous.

The Highway Patrol said Marple was northbound in a 1961 Chevrolet sedan when the car apparently went out of control during the heavy rain. The Marple auto skidded broadside into the southbound lane and was struck in the right side by the oncoming 1958 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Mrs. Branch.

Marple was rushed to Bothwell Hospital in a Conn ambulance from Tipton, but he did not respond to emergency treatment and died in the hospital emergency room at approximately 8:35 a. m. Doctors said he sustained a fractured pelvis and severe head injury, either of which could have caused death.

Mrs. Branch, an expectant mother, received a critical head injury and multiple other injuries. She was the wife of Oliver Branch, Tipton.

Mrs. Branch and her daughter were brought to the hospital in a Richards ambulance from Tipton. Her body was taken to the Richards Funeral Home in Tipton.

The Marple body is being taken to the Scrivner-Stevenson Funeral Home in Versailles.

He talked with newsmen just after he had voted against Johnson's $947.5-million program to combat poverty. It passed 62 to 33.

Goldwater said he is not going to propose a formal agreement with Johnson to keep the explosive side of civil rights out of politics in the months ahead. And he said he does not want to discuss the new Civil Rights act, which he opposed in the Senate.

What he wants, Goldwater said, is a "broad discussion on the campaign and what we both can do to avoid any inflating of trouble."

Goldwater sought the White House session.

To prepare for it, he called a huddle of his research advisers for a discussion of the message he will carry to the President.

Goldwater has said he wants to give the civil rights law a chance to work, even though he voted against it on grounds its sections on public accommodations and equal employment are unconstitutional.

Goldwater has, in effect, dared Johnson to make an issue of civil rights. Hours before he won the Republican nomination, the Arizona senator said in San Francisco:

"Having opposed civil rights

In Johnson, Barry Meet

No Formal Pact On Rights Issue

BULLETIN WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson said today he doesn't see how civil rights can be removed as a campaign issue in the presidential campaign this year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Against a backdrop of harsh words, Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater was meeting with President Johnson this afternoon about steps "to avoid any inflating of trouble" over civil rights in the presidential campaign.

"I don't want to exploit the campaign in any way that will cause disorder," the Arizona senator said Thursday night.

He talked with newsmen just after he had voted against Johnson's $947.5-million program to combat poverty. It passed 62 to 33.

Goldwater said he is not going to propose a formal agreement with Johnson to keep the explosive side of civil rights out of politics in the months ahead. And he said he does not want to discuss the new Civil Rights act, which he opposed in the Senate.

Cooler Temperature Predicted Saturday

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The weatherman is predicting a little cooler weather for Missouri on Saturday.

He says the warm and humid weather is relenting a bit and Saturday's highs are expected to be from 88 to 95 in the north-west; in the upper 80s in the extreme northeast and in the 90s in the south.

Scattered thunderstorms are forecast for tonight and early Saturday in the northwest.

The highs Thursday ranged from 96 at Cape Girardeau to 88 at St. Joseph.

And taking a longer look, the forecaster says temperatures through next Wednesday will average about normal—in the upper 80s and lower 90s.

Racial Tension Ebb by Negroes

NEW YORK (AP)—White youths hurled missiles at Negroes and whites picketing Police Headquarters during the night while disorders dwindled in Harlem and Brooklyn, scenes of five nights of strife.

The picketing of the headquarters, in Lower Manhattan, was sponsored by the Congress of Racial Equality, which accused the police of brutality and demanded the ouster of Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy.

An egg thrown by the whites who opposed the CORE group narrowly missed Murphy.

A rock hit Police Inspector Henry Yack, 59, in the right eye. He was taken to a hospital.

Police protected the men picketing them by setting up wooden barricades to keep the whites at a distance.

None of the pickets was hit.

The anti-picket crowd swelled to 1,500 at its peak. Most just watched the activity. A fraction of them — mostly teen-agers from the Italian-American neighborhood surrounding the headquarters — jeered and hurled objects.

After three hours of picketing, the CORE demonstrators were escorted in three groups to nearby subway stations. They were trailed all the way by hostile residents of the lower East Side neighborhood, who continued to hurl missiles at both police and pickets. A policeman was hit on the shoulder with a rock, treated at a hospital and released.

Police arrested seven whites who were in an auto from which an anti-Negro placard had been flung. Six men and youths were charged with disorderly conduct. One boy was charged with juvenile delinquency and released in custody of his parents.

The seven were the first whites arrested since racial disorders broke out in the city Saturday night.

Peace returned to Harlem in Manhattan and almost complete peace to the predominantly Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn, after five nights of rioting, gunfire, looting, vandalism and hundreds of arrests.

In Brooklyn, several stores were looted and some bricks were thrown.

The city's 26,000-member police force did not relax because of the sudden calm.

Deputy Commissioner Walter Arm said police commands in Harlem and Bedford-Stuyvesant were being "stacked" with men to cope with any emergency this weekend.

"We are prepared for any eventuality and will use whatever legal means or legal force is necessary to maintain order should violence erupt," he said.

Two Survive Eight Days Without Food

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (AP)—Robert Gilroy and Max Portz feared certain death if they struck out in the glacier-fed waters of the Iskut River, so they huddled, drenched and bitterly cold, for eight days on the floats of their overturned aircraft.

They told about it Thursday following their rescue. Gilroy spoke by telephone from Terrace, 70 miles inland from this north coast city and 200 miles south of the spot where their plane hit the river July 14.

The two prospectors were returning to their campsite at the junction of the Iskut and Ihini rivers. They tried for a landing close to the site, trying to avoid the risk of taxiing around snags.

"We hit a mud bank," Gilroy said.

The plane floated downstream for a mile and a half and stopped upside down on a sand bar. Gilroy, 39, and Portz, 48, clambered onto the floats and there they remained through almost continuous rain for eight days.

They had nothing to eat.

The Iskut was about three-quarters of a mile wide, its water close to 30 degrees.

"It would have meant death in two minutes if we had tried

Count 19 Dead In Singapore Racial Clash

Appeals to People To Stop Madness While There's Time

SINGAPORE (AP)—Another killing raised the death toll of Chinese-Malay rioting to 19 today, but the clashes were dwindling and the government launched a high-powered campaign to sell the idea of racial peace.

Deputy State Premier Toh Chin Chye and Culture Minister S. Rajaratnam toured the main Chinese section appealing to the people: "Stop this madness while there is still time."

Teams with loudspeakers mounted on trucks reiterated the call for peace through the 15 districts worst hit by the communal storm.

Officials sought to get a 10-man peace committee formed to patrol each district and curb agitators. Over all, Chinese make up 80 per cent of the 1-712,000 people of this Malaysian island state.

The morning break in the curfew was marked by more than a dozen clashes. But police and troops quickly restored order and herded stragglers off the streets at gunpoint.

A 2½-hour break in the afternoon came off without reports of any serious incidents.

In addition to the 19 dead, police said 451 persons had been injured in the fighting since the first outbreak Tuesday. They said 1,463 have been arrested—1,236 for breaking the curfew and 227 for disturbing the peace or unlawful assembly.

Move to Shut Off Talk On Viet Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials, who were talking only a few weeks ago about the danger of expanding war in Southeast Asia, are now reportedly trying to shut off talk in South Viet Nam warning of early attacks on North Viet Nam.

Washington authorities concede they are upset and somewhat baffled by the statements made in recent days by South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Khanh and other officials in South Viet Nam about attacks on the North.

The reason for this distress is that administration policy does not now call for expanding the war and it is understood in the last two or three weeks President Johnson has made it quite clear to White House, State Department and Defense Department officials that he has heard enough war talk for a while.

In the past, much earlier this year, President Johnson himself warned in a West Coast speech that by supplying assistance to Communist forces in Southeast Asia the Reds were laying a deeply dangerous game. His words were interpreted at the time as a clear warning to Red China and North Viet Nam.

Subsequently, other officials including Secretary of State Dean Rusk made such more-detailed speeches of warning. Such warnings continued into last month and were designed primarily to impress the Red Chinese and North Vietnamese with the seriousness with which the United States views the war in South Viet Nam and Communist operations in Laos.

There has been no official explanation here as to why the U.S. tone has changed so that now warnings and action forecasts

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a steady reader of your column and confess I enjoy it immensely, but nobody with a brain in his head would believe the letters are on the level.

It is not possible day after day, for people to get into those nutty situations. Please don't interpret my comments as criticism. Everyone I know reads you avidly—as I do. The column is worth the price of the newspaper. I just had to let you know that at least one Bostonian reads you with tongue in cheek.—THOMAS THE DOUBTER.

Dear Doubter: So you think I make up the letters? Well, you are not the only one.

How did you like the one about the wife who got mad at her husband, went to the bank, drew out their joint savings of several thousand dollars, then proceeded to scatter the $100 bills all over the street?

And then there was the Miami policeman who spotted a car weaving all over the street. When he went to arrest the driver, he discovered the man was blind. His sister who was seated beside him said, "Horace always wanted to know what it was like to drive a car, so I let him."

Great entertainment, but who would believe it? Well, those incidents are not from my column, Buddy-Boy, they are news stories.

Made-up letters would be dull compared to what people are REALLY doing these days. Who has to make up letters?

Dear Ann Landers: For my 22nd birthday my husband gave me a black eye and a broken nose. I received this thoughtful gift in return for the news that I was pregnant again.

My sister and her husband took me and my two little girls into their home and my brother-in-law paid for my divorce. When the third baby came I decided I had imposed on my family to the limit. I couldn't add another mouth for them to feed. So, in exchange for medical bills plus a little extra, I let my sister's friends legally adopt the new baby—a boy.

Four years have passed and I am now married to a wonderful guy. We learned recently that my husband is not able to have any children. I want my son back. My husband says it would not be fair to take the child from his adoptive parents. I have talked to a lawyer and he says I stand a good chance of winning a court fight since I was emotionally overwrought when I signed the papers.

Don't you feel that a mother is entitled to her child?—MISTAKE.

Dear Mistake: I certainly do. And the child's mother is the woman who adopted him. You have two children, and if that isn't enough, then adopt more.

Dear Ann Landers: Last night our 16-year-old daughter was vigorously beating a pan of fudge. It smelled very tempting. I went into the kitchen and said, "Millie—please call me when the fudge has cooled. I could eat half a dozen pieces!" She replied, "This fudge is not for US, dad, it's for the boys in the firehouse."

I asked my wife what goes. She said, "Millie likes to bake cookies and things for the firemen. She enjoys sitting over there these hot summer evenings—says the firemen are real good company."

I happen to know that every one of those firemen is married. I don't think this is a proper way for a 16-year-old girl to spend her evenings. My wife says I have an evil mind and that the firemen look on Millie as a sweet little kid. You are going to be the one who settles this.—POPS.

Dear Pops: Your wife is out of order. This sweet little kid should not be hanging around the firehouse.

Insist that she knock it off. Encourage Millie to spend her spare evenings with friends her own age.

Atlanta Mayor Convinced Of Cardinals Move

ATLANTA (AP)—Mayor Ivan Allen said today he is convinced that the St. Louis football Cardinals eventually will land in Atlanta.

Allen called sports editor Furman Bisher of the Atlanta Journal from Cape Cod, Mass., where he is vacationing, to comment on the latest turn in the tug-of-war over the National Football League team.

St. Louis sources had said the Bidwill brothers, Charles and Bill, had decided to keep the club in St. Louis.

"I talked with Charles Bidwill Tuesday night by telephone and he assured me that no decision had been made or would be made until he had talked with Arthur Montgomery (directing construction of an Atlanta stadium) and me.

"I have the utmost confidence in these young men (the Bidwills), that they have dealt with complete sincerity with us and have not tried to use Atlanta to better their position in St. Louis.

"I think that they will make the best deal they can for themselves and I believe that eventually they will decide on Atlanta as their destination."

One fire unit was used to protect a grain warehouse near the tracks from catching fire and water was used to lessen the danger of explosion from superheating of the building.

(Continued from Page One) out of South Viet Nam are a cause of alarm in the State Department and are considered out of line with U.S. policy. There may be several reasons, however.

One is a belief held by officials that the earlier warnings did get across and that the Chinese and North Vietnamese know that the United States intends to live up fully to its commitments to defend Southeast Asia and to do whatever is necessary to support the anti-guerilla war in South Viet Nam.

Another reason suggested by some experts is that President Johnson's emphasis in his approach to this year's political contest is on peace rather than on expanding war in the world.

Girls Hate Hearing These Remarks During Leap Year

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks that single girls get tired of during Leap Year—or any other year.

"Well, Esmerelda, you know there's such a thing as being too choosy."

"Sorry, Ma'am, but we don't serve ladies without escorts at the bar. Would you like a table?"

"I wouldn't exactly call her an old maid. But then, on the other hand, she certainly isn't getting any younger."

"I'll get Esmerelda to babysit for us, Joe. After all, she doesn't have much to do in the evenings."

"When she first came to work here, she had the best figure of any girl in the place."

"Honey, if you take my advice, you'll marry any of them. All men are bums anyway, and one's as good as the other. The main thing is, does he have a steady job and go to work every day?"

"At her age you'd think she'd have outgrown the Cinderella complex. But you know how some gals are. They go on all their lives dreaming that some Joe in shining armor is going to gallop up on a white horse and sweep them away from it all."

"Good Lord, I almost forgot—it's my wife's birthday. Would you order me a dozen roses for her? And if you have time on your lunch hour, I sure would appreciate it if you'd stop by and pick up a couple of theater tickets for tonight. I think I'll surprise the old girl. Gee, thanks, Esmerelda, you're a real doll. I don't know how I'd get along without you."

"We're taking up an office collection for Tessie. She's marrying Jim—you know, the guy in the shipping department. How do you like that?—she's here only three months, and got a man already. Shall I put you down for a buck? Gee, over the years, Esmerelda, I guess you've put out a lot of dollars for office showers."

Her elbow is worn out from throwing rice at other girls' weddings."

"The linen in her hope chest is turning yellow."

"She's married to her job."

"If you want to know how the pension fund operates, Jack, you'd better ask Esmerelda. She knows it backward and forward."

"The thing I like about you, Esmerelda, is that you know how men really feel. Now you take my wife, for example. She doesn't understand me at all."

"According to the memo from the personnel department, she's been with us 20 years tomorrow. I'll flip you to see which one of us has to take her to lunch."

"The thing I like about you is that you're not flighty like most dames. You've really got your feet on the ground."

"Gee, Esmerelda, you're a real sport. How come a nice girl like you never got married? I bet you could make any man happy."

3-2 Score In Thursday's Game

Columbia Merchants Bow To Columbia Western Auto

Tonight's Games
Liberal vs. Warsaw, 7 p.m.
Jefferson City vs. Independence, 9 p.m.

Col. W.A. 3, Col. Merchants 2

In the opening game the Columbia Western Auto defeated their fellow townsmen, Columbia Merchants, in an exceptionally well played game of baseball 3-2. A ninth inning threat by the Merchants was quickly ended by the Western Auto to hold on to their one-run edge of victory. The Merchants in the top of the ninth had high hopes of coming through but excellent team work provided the necessary difference to win.

The Merchants drew the first score in the top of the fourth inning when Marvin Sapp was safe on an error. Daryl Goodwin hit a double and M. Sapp held up at third. Robert Sapp walked. Bob Stanley singled to left and M. Sapp scored. Goodwin was thrown out at the plate when he tried to score. Stanley held up at first and R. Sapp stopped at third. Stanley stole second but for some reason turned around and left the base to walk back to first and was tagged out. B. Smith and Dick Bolli both walked, filling the bases. Marshall Murray was out pitcher to first. One run.

Western Auto came back in the bottom of the sixth to tie the game up after Carl Crawford doubled down the left field line. Ed Wuck out second to first. Norm Knight on a fielder's choice was safe, and Crawford scored. Mosby was out second to first. Wayne Sapp was out on a fly ball to the shortstop. One run.

In the seventh the W. A.'s took command when John Antonio singled to left field. Bill Tarr moved Antonio to second on a sacrifice. Ken Lavender hit a two base hit to center field and Antonio scored. Lloyd Forbis struck out. Carl Crawford hit by a pitched ball. Lavender went to third, on a wild pitch, when Robert Sapp, Merchants catcher, picked the ball up after Crawford was hit and made a bad throw to third. Lavender scored. This gave the Western Auto the lead.

At the top of the ninth R. Sapp filed out to second. Stanley singled through the box. Smith singled over second and Stanley held up at third, and Smith went to second on the throw in. (Don Webb ran for Stanley). Bolli was safe on a fielder's choice and Webb scored, with Smith to third. Murray struck out. Relief pitcher Leonard Langwell filed to left field to end the game.

Games tonight will be Liberal and Warsaw in the 7 p. m. contest; Jefferson City vs. Independence at 9 p. m.

The Sedalia Merchants in the final game Thursday night pulled what appeared in early innings to be a loser out of the fire and ended the game in eight innings, defeating the Whiteman AFB club 10-3. In the opener Thursday night the Columbia Western Auto had a ninth inning scare with the Columbia Merchants but won 3-2, in the Missouri State Semi-Pro tournament.

The locals took advantage of errors, bunched their hits and came through with a six-run rally in the fourth which upset the visitors from Whiteman, and went on to beat the Air Force.

Whiteman took the lead in the top of the first inning Fred Wagner out third to first; Gary Willis walked. Don Long was out second to first, Willis to second. Miller singled to left field and Willis scored. Miller to second on the throw. Al Neckar singled to left field and Miller was thrown out at the plate by Jim Fall. One run.

Cubs Drop Giants Two Games Back

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Billy O'Dell went out to the mound Thursday for San Francisco, retired Chicago's Billy Cowan on a grounder to start the game — and then didn't get out of trouble until he got under a shower seven innings and 12 runs late.

The Cubs finished off a 13-4 triumph against Jim Duffalo, dropping the Giants two games behind the National League leading Philadelphia Phillies — the biggest edge either contender has had since June 21.

While he was in there, O'Dell was tagged for 11 hits, including three homers, three doubles and a triple. The homers were hit by Billy Williams, Len Gabrielsen and pitcher Lew Burdette, who also touched O'Dell for a triple and a single.

While the Cubs slowed down against Duffalo—only five hits in two innings—Burdette kept at a good thing and smacked another single for four hits for the day. Asked when he had last collected four hits, Burdette said:

"In 1921."

The Phillies, meanwhile, played ricochet with Milwaukee and finally defeated the Braves 13-10 in 10 innings. Third-place Cincinnati ended a five-game losing streak to New York by beating the Mets 5-4. Pittsburgh hammered 16 hits for an 8-5 victory over St. Louis

Decision On Cards Move On Weekend

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The decision on a possible move to Atlanta by the St. Louis football Cardinals will be made this weekend, Cardinal vice president Bill Bidwill said Thursday.

Bidwill and his brother, Cardinal President Charles (Stormy) Bidwill, have been given what they termed a "tremendous offer" by those building a new sports stadium in Atlanta.

The Atlanta stadium is scheduled to be finished one year ahead of the new St. Louis downtown stadium.

Bidwill made the announcement on the coming decision after a meeting with the Civic Center Redevelopment Corp. Civic Center is the prime backer for the St. Louis Stadium.

"It was a very interesting meeting held on a friendly and cordial level," Bidwill said. "But, that's all I can say right now."

Civic Center president, James P. Hickok, said he expected the Cardinals to stay in St. Louis.

"In fact," Hickok said, "Bill indicated that the decision would be favorable to St. Louis. I'm very optimistic about them staying."

"I haven't been able to get in touch with Stormy," Bidwill said. "... He and I will have to go over all phases of what has transpired and a decision will be made over the weekend—one way or the other."

No Grid Series

NEW YORK (AP)—A reporter asked National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle Thursday night if he thought there'd be a world series in the next six or seven years.

Obviously, the reporter referred to the rival American Football League's campaign for a world title game between champions of the two leagues. Rozelle smiled and replied:

"We have one now. In October—probably between Baltimore and the Philadelphia Phillies."

and the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Houston 5-4.

While O'Dell was laboring, Burdette was breezing. He had a 12-0 lead before the Giants scored, eventually was tagged for homers by Orlando Cepeda and Jim Hart but had little difficulty bringing his record to 7-2. It was his sixth victory since he was traded to the Cubs by St. Louis.

Johnny Callison hit two homers for the Phillies, accounting for five runs, and Gene Oliver and Denis Menke connected for the Braves before the lead changed hands three times in the last two innings.

In the 10th, winning pitcher Jack Baldschun singled and Richie Allen, who had made two costly errors in the eighth and ninth, beat out an infield hit. Cookie Rojas followed with a two-run double that snapped the tie. Rojas eventually scored on two passed balls by catcher Ed Bailey.

The Reds beat the Mets with the aid of two errors, the decisive run scoring in the sixth on errors by Rod Kanehl and Charlie Smikh sandwiched around a single by John Edwards.

Reds' starter Jim Maloney checked the Mets on five hits and struck out nine in six innings before he had to leave with a strained back. Bob Purkey and Bill Henry finished up.

Bob Bailey and Bill Virdon each collected a homer among their three hits as the Pirates thumped Mike Cuellar and three successors. Pittsburgh wound up the three-game series at St. Louis with 46 hits and 31 runs.

The Dodgers trailed 4-2 going into the ninth when Nate Oliver's single, a walk and Maury Wills' single produced a run. Willie Davis then beat out an infield fly, loading the bases, and Willie Davis wrapped it up with a two-out, two run single. It was his third hit of the night.

Emergency Trip Pays Off With Victory for Athletics

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Berto Campaneris, a 21-year-old Cuban, made an emergency overnight trip to join the Kansas City Athletics, who had lost shortstop Wayne Causey in a baseline accident.

Shortly after arriving Thursday, Campaneris clouted two homers and a single, driving in three runs, as the Athletics nipped Minnesota 4-3 in 11 innings. The rookie also walked and stole a base while the Twins dropped their eighth consecutive game.

In the first inning, in his first major league time at bat, Jim Kaat's first pitch came in, and Campaneris slammed it over the left field fence.

That made the shortstop only the sixth player in major league history to hit a home run on the first pitch.

Then in the seventh inning, he

Girls Trounce Boys' Team In Softball Game

A Boys' Club team composed of players ten and under met girls from the Khoury petite league all-stars in a game Thursday morning. The boys were sadly trounced, 20-5.

Spurring the petites on to victory were two homers by Cathy Allen, both with the bases loaded. The first was in the first inning and the second was in the fourth. Wesley White homered for the Boys' Club in the fourth.

It was hard for the older boys watching the contest to see the younger boys get beat, especially by girls.

Pitching duties for the Boys' Club were shared by Jim Walter, John Hawkins, and Danny Hall, with Walter taking the loss. Cathy Allen, Jean Echnbacher and Susan Hunt were the pitchers for the all-stars.

In the regularly scheduled chic league contest for the girls Thursday night, the Beatles fell to the Fillies, 18-10.

Loraine Gravitt got a homer for the Beatles in the sixth with the bases loaded. Debby Vansell also got a four-bagger in the first for the Fillies with two on.

Barbara Davis took the win for the Fillies with four strikeouts. Doreen Soanka absorbed the loss for the Beatles with five strikeouts.

again hit a Kaat pitch over the left field fence, this time with a man on. That hit gave him the distinction of being only the second in modern history to hit two homers in his first game.

Bob Nieman did it with the St. Louis Browns in 1951.

Curiously enough, one of the other five players to hit a first-pitch homer was Hoyt Wilhelm. The veteran pitcher got a key single Thursday in Chicago's 2-1 victory over Los Angeles in another 11-inning contest.

Elsewhere in the AL, Washington edged New York 2-1. Baltimore trounced Cleveland 7-1 and Boston trimmed Detroit 4-3.

Campaneris' second homer tied the game 3-3 after Harmon Killebrew's 34th homer with two aboard gave the Twins a 3-1 lead in the sixth inning. Doc Edwards won it for the Athletics with a homer off Gerry Arrigo in the 11th.

The White Sox broke Dean Chance's scoreless pitching string at 27 innings with a run in the first but had to wait 10 more innings for the triumph. A double by Felix Torres and Bobby Knopp's single tied the game in the Angels' eighth.

Then in the 11th, Mike Hersberger walked, went to second on Wilhelm's single and scored on Tom McCraw's single.

The Yankees held a 1-0 lead until the eighth. At that point the Senators loaded the bases on a double and two walks, and pinch

Athletics Win 4-3; Cards Lose

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Kansas City Athletics made a pleasant discovery in rookie Dagaberto Campaneris, who slugged two homers in a 4-3 victory over Minnesota Thursday. At the same time, the St. Louis Cardinals again could not discover any pitching and lost to Pittsburgh, 8-5.

The A's swept the three-game series at Minneapolis while the Cards dropped all three games to the Pirates. Kansas City returns home tonight, sending John O'Donoghue, 6-6, against Don Lee, 5-1, of the hot fourth-place Los Angeles Angels. St. Louis hits the road with Bob Gibson, 8-7, starting against Chris Short, 8-5, of the first place Philadelphia Phillies.

A homer in the 11th inning by Doc Edwards, his first of the season, won it for the A's. John Wyatt got his second victory in two days out of the bullpen. Diego Segui was near-perfect until the sixth when Harmon Killebrew smashed a three-run homer, his 34th.

But a two-run homer by Campaneris, just off the plane from Birmingham as a last-minute replacement for injured shortstop Wayne Causey, tied it 3-3 in the seventh. He is the second man in major league annals to hit two homers his first game. The first was Bob Nieman for the St. Louis Browns in 1951.

Pittsburgh pounded 16 hits off four pitchers, including homers by Bill Virdon and Bob Bailey. St. Louis had 13 hits, but only two for extra bases and left 13 men stranded. The Pirates broke a 3-3 tie with a triple by Jim Pagliaro in the fourth for a 4-3 edge, then knocked out starter Mike Cuellar with a three-run fifth.

Makes 32 Strikes In Bowling Tourney

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Les Zikes, whose name rhymes with strikes, made 32 of them Thursday night to roll up a big lead in the opening round of the second annual Invitational Amateur Bowling Tournament of the Americas.

The 29-year-old bowler from Palatine, Ill., had 202-257-233-279—971 for an impressive lead in the four-day event that drew champions from 16 countries and Puerto Rico.

Second in the men's division was Carlos Munoz of Guatemala City with 782.

Mele Anata of Mexico City leads the women's division with 194-200-215-197—806.

Golfers Hot As Weather In Columbus

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Last week, Bobby Nichols won the PGA Golf Tournament at Columbus, Ohio, with a $5 putter that brought him $18,000 in prize money.

Earlier this month, Champagne Tony Lema won the British Open at St. Andrews, Scotland, with a putter he borrowed from Arnold Palmer.

At the $50,000 Insurance City Open on Wethersfield Country Club course, Al Geiberger, using a putter he traded for a set of woods, Thursday needed only 26 putts and collected seven birdies for a seven-under-par 64 and the first round lead.

Geiberger used his putter to find the cup at ranges of six to 15 feet.

It gave him a two-stroke lead over Al Bessellink, Jim Ferree, Jack Rule and Bert Yancy, tied with 66s.

Ken Venturi, the National Open champion, and Nichols, half of the new big four in golf—Palmer and Lema are the others—trailed by six strokes. Julius Boros, Sam Snead and Billy Casper were tied at 69.

The pros were as hot as the

Top Director Looks Like Cage Pro

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—He looked more like an itinerant basketball pro than the winner of this year's Academy Award for direction.

Tony Richardson, un-British in faded blue jeans, royal blue windbreaker and sneakers, was directing tests of Anjanette Comer as a mortuary assistant and Sir John Gielgud as a corpse for "The Loved One." The director was working on a tiny stage of a Hollywood television studio despite the fact that the film is being released by MGM.

"The Loved One," based on Evelyn Waugh's satire of the Southern California undertaking industry, will be filmed entirely on location. The closest Richardson will come to MGM is the parking lot and the administration building, which will double for headquarters of a "Memorial Park."

Richardson is the man who made "Tom Jones," which brought him every award in sight, including the Oscar. He had no inkling that it would prove such a success.

"After I finished making it, I thought it was a mess," he recalled. "It seemed all jumbled and disjointed, and I didn't see how anyone would make any sense out of it."

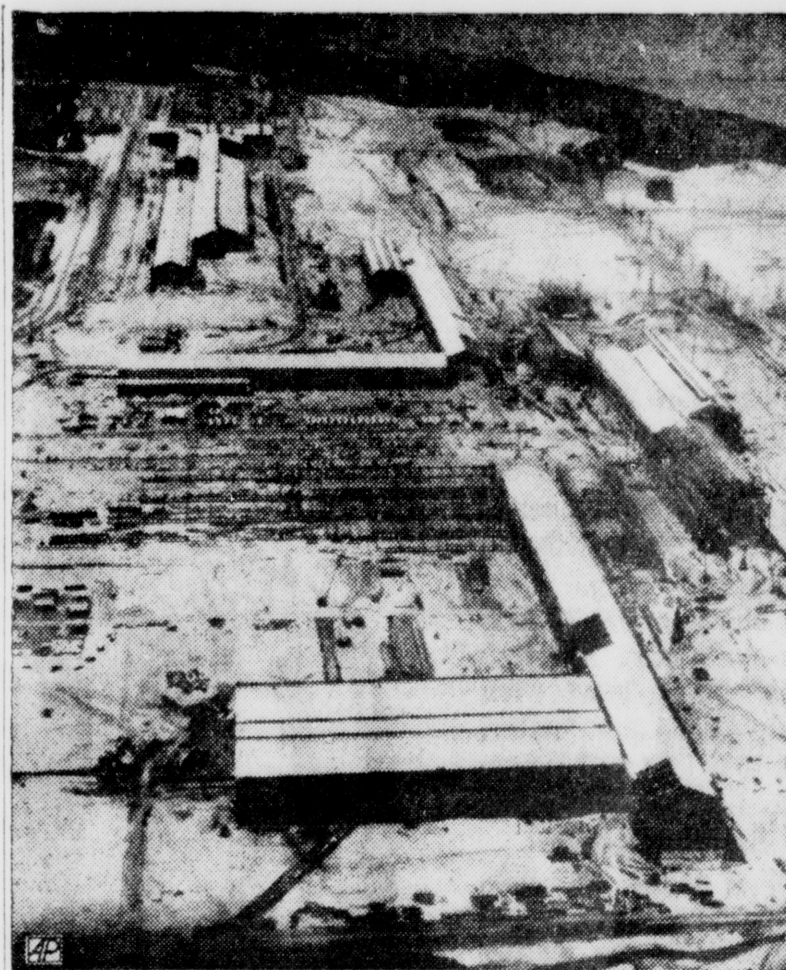

"Tom Jones" was shot entirely on location, he said, using houses of the period of the Henry Fielding novel. In some cases sets were improvised within the houses by using screens and backdrops.

He estimated the film's cost at $1,300,000 and hears that its predicted gross ranges between $25 and $30 million. "Incredible," he commented.

"The Loved One," which also stars Robert Morse and Jonathan Winters, appears to be proof of that. After that he plans two American subjects: "Reflections in a Golden Eye," a Carson McCullers story to be filmed in Georgia; and James Baldwin's "Another Country," for shooting in New York City.

"I plan to make four films before I undertake 'The Charge of the Light Brigade,'" the director said.

Richardson would like to film the Crimean war story in the actual locale, making use of Russian cavalry. He said the Russians have offered to cooperate, but he has his doubts. The script, he explained, would detail what he called colossal stupidity on both sides of the conflict.

Communists Linked To Riots in Harlem

NEW YORK (AP)—Top city officials say Communists had a hand in starting New York's racial riots, but Negro leaders discount or minimize the Communist role.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner told reporters Wednesday night there was "some evidence" of communist involvement. He declined further comment, but said the FBI had supplied information "of the greatest interest."

Roy Wilkins, head of the National Association for the Advancement of colored people, said that "raising the Communist cry won't solve very much at this time."

Wilkins said "provocateurs" may have been involved, but the rioting was not part of any plan.

'Cradle-Rockers' Recognized

A great sociological advancement of this election year is the discovery by both political parties that women are important.

President Johnson, who somehow had projected the image of a man who regarded the opposite sex primarily as dancing partners, is becoming increasingly convinced of their inherent right and ability to hold important governmental posts.

He is, accordingly, naming women right and left to high level jobs.

The Republicans can take a hint. So GOP members of the House Ways and Means Committee are now outraged over the fact that our ladies, heaven bless them, are still paying wartime federal excise taxes on such essential feminine accouterment as lipsticks, beauty creams, cosmetics, jewelry, purses and furs.

"It is difficult to understand," these congressional cavaliers remark acidly in shocked disbelief,

"why an administration which professes to be so interested in furthering the career of the American woman should be so opposed to the repeal of these taxes which fall so heavily on American womanhood."

An impartial observer has to rate this as gallantry at its best. Sir Galahad, Sir Walter Raleigh or even Cary Grant couldn't have done better. And you can bet that LBJ and Democrats all down the line are squirming. You can't enjoy fighting chivalry!

The nicest thing about all this, really, is that you just know it has not occurred to either the doting Democrats or the enraptured Republicans that their tender solicitude may bring out a few more feminine votes for the side that gets there fustest with the mostest.

No, ma'am, this here is just our leaders' bashful way of telling you girls that you are wonderful. Especially right now!

Spectre of War Over Israeli Pipeline

Editor's Note — This column was based on material collected during Drew Pearson's recent trip to the Near East.

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The most inspiring development in the Near East, and the most dynamite-laden when it comes to war, is the water line from the Sea of Galilee, where Christ walked on the water, to the Negev Desert near where Moses led the tribes of Israel back to within sight of the Promised Land.

The Promised Land today is not much of a place. It is dry, desolate with not a sign of human habitation save an occasional Bedouin tent. But thanks to this amazing irrigation project it soon will be.

I flew over the northern part of the ditch by helicopter. It is a ribbon of white concrete with blue water, a beautiful blue, running miles and miles through brown hills. Further south as the hills flatten out into plains, you see acres and acres of green corn, tomatoes, and orchards with overhead sprays, the giant garden hose, showing what a few drops of life-giving water can do to a parched land.

And across the border, made by man and policed by man but not visible to the eye, are the fields of Jordan which have no overhead irrigation. They are brown.

Spectre of War

This is why over the ribbon of blue hangs the spectre of war.

We left Tel Aviv promptly at 10 a.m. to drive to a base near the Sea of Galilee. Israeli engineers are busy, prompt people. Like most of Israel, they are out to get a job done, not loiter around waiting to keep appointments. As we drove north over a brand new thruway, a short-wave radio in the car kept acting director, Yaacov Vardi, a Yugoslav-born Jew, in touch with the main office to correlate movements with a car bringing Dr. Alain Enthoven, a technical adviser to Secretary of Defense McNamara.

We met him at an air force base, then flew to the Sea of Galilee where the controversial pipeline begins.

Seven years ago when I was in Israel, a concrete ditch was being built to tap the headwaters of the Jordan River, up near the Syrian border. Syrian guards looked ominously down from the hills as we inspected the work.

But after the UN Security Council ruled that the Jordan River was an international body of water, the Israelis moved the project down to the Sea of Galilee which is wholly within their territory.

You can stand on a hill overlooking the lake 120 feet deep and covering 65 square miles, and see the Arab fishing village nestled a few feet back from the shore where the Jordan comes down from Lebanon, Syria, and the Arab countries to pour DALLAS TIMES HERALD: Likes and Dislikes.—For what it's worth to Love Field area residents, a U.S. Public Health Service doctor says the way you react to different noises may be based on personal likes and dislikes.

If you are bothered by the noise of jet planes, he says, it's probably because airplanes scare you. A British study found that 80 per cent of the people annoyed by aircraft noise also feared to fly.

On the other hand, the neighbor's dog doesn't bother you so much when he barks if you like dogs, but if you aren't a canine lover then it irritates badly. The pervasive hum of an air conditioner wasn't noticed by 90 per cent of the people in the room because they instinctively made provision for the noise because of the comfort provided.

Which may or may not be a key to why we feel the way we do about the Beatles.

DeGaulle Is Re-working His Idea

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON D. C. — Charles De Gaulle got stuck with an idea; now he's reworking it. The last thing he wants to be ignored; but he's being ignored.

The French president Thursday proposed at his second news conference of 1964 the neutralization of all Southeast Asia, including Viet Nam. It was an old idea.

He had proposed it at his first news conference of 1964 last January. The United States brushed off the idea then. It's brushing it off now.

The trouble was that 10 years ago 14 nations at Geneva reached an agreement supposed to keep Southeast Asia peaceful. It's been anything but.

Washington's view was, and is, that Red China and the North Vietnamese broke the agreement. So why think a new agreement would be observed?

France had held Indochina as a colony since the 19th century and showed no signs of granting independence until some Indochinese got fed up.

Some of them, Communist-led under Ho Chi Minh, fought the French 7½ years and finally wrecked them in 1953.

This was humiliation for the French who had to be bailed out in two world wars. Now under De Gaulle, they aspire to world leadership again.

The Geneva Agreement divided Viet Nam into North and South Viet Nam, with Ho Chi Minh still in charge in the north. The French pulled out.

The North Vietnamese decided to take over South Viet Nam, which needed help to survive. The United States stepped in and has been helping out since.

It seems clear from this history that if there was a new agreement and the United States pulled out, the North Vietnamese wouldn't let peace last long.

This time — adding a new touch—De Gaulle wants the United States, France, Russia and Red China to guarantee the peace.

De Gaulle's proposals on Southeast Asia suggest he can't reconcile himself to the thought that France should, or must, keep its nose out of Asia permanently.

It is part of the pattern of his mind. He wouldn't accept a nuclear test ban treaty, insisting instead that France must build its own nuclear arsenal.

At the same time he wants a close tie-up with Germany. But this wouldn't be on an equal partnership basis if France had nuclear weapons and Germany didn't.

And if West Germany tried to build them the Russians would go through the ceiling. And so would De Gaulle, probably.

The Frenchman seeks a kind of French-German alliance that would dominate their smaller neighbors. But German Chancellor Erhard wants no part of it.

He knows West Germany is too close to Russia for safety and wishes to have the protection of the United States.

De Gaulle wants that protection but apparently wishes he didn't.

State Department Terrace Is Leaking

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk disclosed a state secret Wednesday night.

The terrace atop the State Department building, which overlooks much of downtown Washington, is not available to guests because it is under repair.

Apologizing at a formal dinner for Malaysia's visiting Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman, Rusk said the terrace had begun to leak on "those of us on the famous seventh floor," where he and his top aides have their offices.

"This is dangerous to say, I know," Rusk said. "It opens the way for our Republican friends to say that the Republicans built the State Department and it worked fine and then the Democrats got in and it began to leak."

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Foamy Detergents Endanger Water Supply

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.,
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Pure water is something we have come to take for granted, but more and more communities are finding it hard to maintain an acceptable water supply.

Nothing is more important to your health. The supply of water is limited in most communities. Increased demands for water by a rapidly expanding population and by industries are complicating the problem.

Water purification plants are often outgrown almost before construction is completed.

And often pollution that may affect your supply is not created in your town but in the town upstream from you.

Whereas the chief danger from polluted water used to be disease germs it is now the foamy detergents that have taken the country by storm. They all have one ingredient in common — alkyl benzene sulfonate (ABS).

Its popularity is due to the fact that it does a fine job of cleaning in either hard or soft water and in hard water produces no scum. It is cheap and plentiful but, when it gets into a stream that falls over even a small dam, it produces mountains of billow foam.

Although it is not directly poisonous it imparts a disagreeable taste to the water, and there is some evidence that over a period of years it could cause cancer of the stomach. It is not decomposed by the helpful germs that rid your water supply of other pollutants and it readily passes through water filtration plants.

In some communities on windy days it may be blown onto the roads in such large amounts as to make driving hazardous.

Chemists have now produced new detergents only slightly more expensive than those containing ABS that will decompose after they are emptied into the sewer. Until they are generally adopted some water purification plants are meeting the challenge by churning the water to produce the maximum amount of foam and removing the foam before sending it into the nearest river.

Even if you rely entirely on rain water from your roof for your water supply you cannot always avoid pollution. If pesticides have been sprayed on trees in the vicinity, the wind may have settled some of the chemicals on your roof to be washed into your reservoir.

Furthermore, some pebbled tar paper roofing is colored with dyes that contain lead chromate. This may cause lead poisoning if the water is drunk.

Deportation Order Sends Greeks From Turk Homes

By HAL MCCLURE

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—They impatiently wait each morning for the doors of the old Greek consulate to open. They crowd into the vaulted anteroom, quietly talking, arguing or occasionally crying.

They are Greek citizens ordered to leave Turkey.

Many of them were born in Turkey. Many have never even visited Greece.

So far, Turkey has ordered more than 800 of Istanbul's estimated 9,000 Greek nationals to pack up and leave. The Greek community believes all will be forced to go eventually.

The deportation, which began last March, has sent shock waves through the estimated 50,000 Turkish citizens of Greek descent residing in the greater Istanbul area.

They fear some kind of reprisals against them also. The Turkish government denies this, saying that as Turkish citizens they enjoy full citizenship rights and protection under the constitution.

The Turkish government denies that the Cyprus conflict has any direct connection with the evacuation orders. The expelled Greeks have been engaging in activities detrimental to national interests, the Turks charge.

Greek officials laugh at this. Sources close to the Greek consulate say the first lists of 409 included nine persons over 80 years old, 92 over 70 and five deceased.

The Greek national usually has a week to settle his affairs and depart. He is permitted to take his clothing, 200 Turkish lira—about $22—plus his transportation ticket.

He must leave his home, his furniture, his business. His bank accounts are blocked, his safe-deposit vaults are sealed. He must pay his 1964 income tax.

The trouble is, say the Greeks, no one wants to buy their businesses. Or if they do, the price offered is ridiculous. The government, in effect, assumes control.

"This anti-Greek policy is suicide for Turkey," says one high-placed Greek who declined use of his name. "Turkey needs financial aid from the rest of the world now. She needs new investment. But who would want to invest money in Turkey if she continues to follow this antibusiness, Xenophobic policy?"

A Turkish government spokesman said this charge was baseless.

"On the contrary," he said, "the Turkish economy incurred great losses through fortunes smuggled out of Turkey by Greek nationals through unlawful channels."

"We did the same thing in Athens when the Greek economy seemed in danger," a Greek says. "The Greeks would keep their money here if it had a chance to make a profit."

The Greeks say the Turks also have been harassing the community in many ways, including newspaper attacks, breaking windows in some Greek homes and schools, anti-Greek signs chalked on walls, threatening letters, and measures taken against the Eastern Orthodox patriarchate and Greek private schools.

The Greek nationals have many friends among the Turks who express sympathy for their predicament. But the Turks claim the Greeks have been trying to get the best of both worlds—living in Istanbul, which is cheaper than Athens, and avoiding military service of both countries.

Little Change

Assisi, in central Italy, has changed little in appearance since the Middle Ages, when it was the home of St. Francis. Most of its income is derived from tourists and it has little commerce or industry.

We the Women

Time to Face Facts

By Ruth Millett
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

At the beauty shop the other day, I heard a middle-aged woman ruefully remark that her good looks were gone. "Oh, well," she said, "it was a pretty face once. It helped me to be popular when I was young and it got me the man I married. So I can't complain."

That's about as good a philosophy as any for the woman whose mirror is no longer reassuring. So the face that was once young and fresh has lost some of its color and firmness, and a few wrinkles have moved in. Tragic? No, not if you stop to consider what it did for you while it was young.

It carried you through the period when you hadn't much else to depend on but looks, didn't it? It was a pretty good friend when you needed it most.

Now, perhaps, you can't count on it for much any more—not just by itself, that is.

But it will still be your friend, if you'll help it out. Let it relax instead of tightening it up in annoyance, envy, impatience.

See to it that it expresses you at your best — a gay, warm-hearted, happy, out-going interested you.

So don't waste any time worrying because that face of yours is no longer a girl's face, pretty enough to get you by without much effort on your part.

Give it a little help and it will still be your friend. But don't forget that now what you are like is more important than what your face is like.

At this time in life you already have many of the things you hoped to have when you were young. It shouldn't be difficult to hold on to them without the help of a pretty face.

The Viet Nam War

Saigon People Show Little Interest In Country's War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—"We don't try to recruit troops in Saigon because they don't make good marines," says a U.S. adviser to the Vietnamese marine corps. "The South Vietnamese country boys are stronger, they're more susceptible to discipline, and they make better fighters."

A U.S. civilian official said: "If we could persuade the Saigoneses that this war was worth fighting, we'd have won half the battle."

A U.S. Ranger adviser, a West Point man, said: "With decent leadership, Vietnamese troops can do wonders. Without dedicated officers from Saigon, they're lost."

And another adviser said: "There's a lot of talk about the Vietnamese people being weary of the war. People who talk that way should have a look at some little self-defense corps post in the heart of Viet Cong territory that's been holding out for days and months and years without a whimper."

"There's a lot of war weariness all right—in Saigon. The weariest types you'll ever come across are sitting behind desks in Saigon, where they haven't heard a shot fired in anger in 10 years."

By and large, such criticism has not been directed at Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the Vietnamese premier. Khanh has liberalized pay and decoration policies for his troops, tried to improve morale generally, and has set an example by visiting the men under fire. Some of his officers have followed the example.

But Saigon, a city of nearly two million inhabitants, about one-seventh of South Viet Nam's population, remains generally indifferent.

Government sources report unusually large numbers of wealthy Vietnamese applying for exit visas needed to resettle in other countries.

While Khanh has threatened the death penalty for officials convicted of corruption, reports from normally reliable sources have it that corruption is once again on the increase, even in upper-command echelons.

The city's uproarious night life continues at full tilt. Juvenile delinquency and the crime rate are soaring.

Foreign Policy Issue

Reaction Abroad Expected To Run High In Campaign

EDITOR'S NOTE — The Republicans' nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater has been sharply criticized by many newspapers in allied European countries, and now by Soviet Premier Khrushchev — in a manner that for a diplomat would be improper interference in internal affairs. Is it proper? What is its aim? John M. Hightower, AP diplomatic affairs writer, provides some answers.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sharp debate over U.S. foreign policy which is developing in this year's presidential election campaign, seems likely to excite more reaction in foreign countries than any American political dispute since the end of World War II.

Much of the European press has already expressed bitter criticism of the nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater, assailing him as the leader of those who would change fundamental U.S. positions in world affairs.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev raised the operation to the summit level this week by denouncing both the Republican nominee and the platform on which he is running.

This kind of action by a foreign official is traditionally classified in diplomacy as interference in the internal affairs of the United States, and the diplomat who tried it would quickly find himself in serious trouble. In 1888 British Ambassador Lionel Sackville-West was sent home for taking sides in the contest between Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison, and his fate is well remembered in the Washington diplomatic corps to this day.

But the rules that silence ambassadors do not operate for presidents and premiers, speaking from distant capitals. Khrushchev told a Polish audience that the candidate put forward by the Republican party "made it clear that he wants to enter the White House under the slogans of unbridled anti-communism and war threats."

He also asserted that the Republican platform, which he denounced as warlike, had been adopted "in an atmosphere reminiscent of the fascist gatherings in Nuremberg."

The big question raised among U.S. foreign policy officials who are always concerned with the aim of Khrushchev's maneuvers, is what he hopes to accomplish by an attack at this time.

Khrushchev has interfered in U.S. presidential politics before. In 1960 he spoke out against Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon. At that time Khrushchev had broken off friendly personal relations with President Dwight D. Eisenhower over the U2 plane incident, and he expressed his antagonism toward Nixon by identifying him with Eisenhower.

Diplomats here believe the present campaign debate on foreign policy probably will be more far reaching and involve more fundamental issues than any in the past 20 years.

Where the Communist problem is concerned, for example, the Johnson administration has been following a policy of trying to treat different Communist countries differently according to their willingness to make practical agreements with the United States. In the Kennedy-Johnson administration the outstanding example of this policy is the limited nuclear test-ban treaty signed with the Soviet Union last summer.

NFO Head Sees a New Holding Act

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The head of the National Farmers Organization says a holding action on farm products at the market by members in 23 states "appears imminent."

Oren Staley, president of the NFO, said Wednesday there would be no advance notice when the holding action would take place.

"We will use the element of surprise for the purpose of shocking the buyer as much as possible," he said at an Illinois meeting of NFO members.

Staley said NFO members, by withholding their products from markets, would seek to influence food processors to sign master contracts with NFO members.

He identified the 23 states as Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, North Dakota, South Dakota, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Idaho, New York, Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas, Nebraska, Ohio and West Virginia.

"The desire for holding action seems to be increasing," said Staley, who recently has attended meetings in eight states.

The shock element, he said, would be aimed at major buyers at the processing and retail levels.

Prove Being Stubborn Can Pay Dividend

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Actor's Workshop is a dandy example of how to succeed by being stubborn.

One of the country's best-known, most-lauded theater ventures, it has struggled long against civic apathy. That is where determination comes in.

"In any other city, we'd be doing a lot better," says Jules Irving who founded the group 14 years ago with Herbert Blau. "That's the reason we've got to do it here—and it can be done."

Irving and Blau, New Yorkers who believe that the destiny of American theatrical entertainment lies with resident troupes far from Broadway, stressed their fixity of purpose recently by passing up a tantalizing offer of permanent security for the project—because it would have had to leave San Francisco.

Stanford University proposed professorships for both and enticing production facilities if the workshop moved to Palo Alto, 30 miles away.

The bid was declined at just about the time the Workshop lost out on an effort to acquire a venerable playhouse as a permanent home. Supporters rallied substantial sums, but the property went to a church.

Recently there have been indications that city officials will do something for the group beyond the token contribution of $10,000, given out of the municipal hotel tax during the past couple of years to the Workshop's $300,000 annual budget.

Irving said Mayor John F. Shelley notified him: "This administration is determined to make amends for the neglect of the past."

Under consideration is a plan to allocate space for construction of a Workshop center in a park which is being developed around the old ferry building landmark at the foot of Market Street.

During its career of 82 productions through this season, the over a judo school, in an abandoned car storage plant and, currently, stages dramas in two playhouses—one the auditorium of a Marine veterans association, the other a basement two blocks away.

The costume and scenery shops are in a backyard five miles across town, and rehearsal facilities are midway between over a sponge factory.

Another phase of the Workshop's recognition campaign is directed at audience expansion. Attendance averages 52 per cent of capacity—about 75 per cent would assure fiscal ease. During the past two seasons the Workshop has had annual aid of $98,000 from the Ford foundation.

The Workshop over the years has achieved a notable record of accomplishment that has included original works as well as classics.

Since 1954 it has used professional actors only.

One-Third of Way On Trip Atop Bull

WINDOM, Minn. (AP)—Cowboy Carl Swanson is about a third of the way in his attempt to ride his Hereford bull, Randy, from border to border.

Swanson, 41, of Onamia, Minn., left International Falls, Minn., April 28 and expects to reach the Texas Gulf Coast next February.

Swanson says he is promoting the use of beef. His arrival in Windom Wednesday marked completion of about 500 miles of beef-on-the-hoof travel.

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent to President Johnson for his signature a $1,534,994,000 authorization for construction of military facilities in this country and overseas.

The House approved this compromise measure Wednesday and the Senate passed it shortly afterward.

A separate appropriation bill to finance these projects already has been passed by the House. The Senate has not acted upon the money measure.

WASHINGTON (AP)—World War II veterans are facing increasingly tougher job competition from youngsters of the postwar baby boom, a Labor Department official says.

Louis Levine, director of the U.S. Employment Service, says the younger men who are coming into the labor market are generally better educated and better equipped for the jobs.

"With each passing year, veterans become especially vulnerable to the rapidly changing labor conditions and hiring specifications," Levine said in an article in "Employment Service Review," published by the Labor Department.

But Levine said that by and large veterans have fared well in the years since the GI Bill 20 years ago provided the nation with its biggest single boost in education and job training.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union says it isn't shipping American wheat to Cuba.

A minister at the Soviet Embassy here told the State Department Wednesday that reports of such shipments were false.

Peace Plan Bypassed By Rioters

NEW YORK (AP) — Negro leaders brushed off Thursday a blueprint for peace by Mayor Robert F. Wagner as "too little and too late" as racial rioting mounted in fury.

Six hundred young Negroes screaming "Kill or be killed," raced through the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn during the night, smashing 200 store windows and looting the premises.

Police, augmented by patrols on horseback, shot three Negroes and arrested 122 in the fifth straight night of disorders that started in Harlem and spread to Brooklyn. The police said those shot were suspected looters.

A police sergeant called the Bedford-Stuyvesant disorder "pure, unadulterated hell."

Police placed the five-day toll at: one man dead by gunfire; 140 persons, including 48 policemen, injured; 478 persons arrested, and 673 properties damaged.

Negro leaders said Wagner's peace appeal on radio and television Wednesday night was inadequate.

They said the mayor did not meet the Negroes' two chief demands:

1. Establishment of a non-police board to review complaints of police brutality.
2. Suspension—at the least—of Police Lt. Thomas R. Gilligan 15-year-old Negro boy last week sparked protests that mushroomed into the rioting.

Gilligan has said he was trying to break up a neighborhood dispute and fired because the boy, James Powell, came at him with a knife.

A grand jury is investigating the shooting.

Opponents of a review board contend it would dilute Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy's authority and inhibit police from their responsibilities in carrying out the law.

Murphy contends the Police Department has an adequate review board and that policemen found to have been brutal are fired.

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said the Negro demand for an independent review board is "the crux of the matter."

Other Negro leaders spoke in similar vein.

Wagner, who expressed "complete confidence" in Murphy, offered a nine-point program aimed at ending racial strife but stopped short of setting up the board asked by the Negroes.

During Indian Ceremonies

Goldwater To Hold Dance On Lawn Of White House

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee who is promising some changes in government if elected, has jokingly remarked he'll hold an Indian dance on the White House grounds.

The Arizona senator is a longtime member of the Smoki People, a group of Prescott businessmen.

On Aug. 1, the 44th renewal of the Smoki (pronounced smoke-eye) Ceremonials, dedicated to the preservation of southwest Indian traditions, will be performed here.

In the past Goldwater has performed the rituals of the spectacular snake dance, which caps the Smoki ceremonials. It isn't known yet whether Goldwater will be on hand this year.

Indian legend has it that the snakes are of the underworld whence come the water of the springs and the rain clouds. The snakes, called "little brothers" are brought forth to take part in the festival, then sent back to the underworld with a message that snake "priests have performed their sacred rites and offered prayers for rain and good crops."

Chanting and dancing, the snake priests carry snakes in their mouths as proof that the reptiles are their little brothers.

The Goldwater has participated twice in the snake dance, the last time in 1947.

The Smoki People are seldom identified publicly by name. Membership is signified by small tattoo marks on the left hand. Goldwater has such marks.

Nonpoisonous bull snakes are used in the snake dance. They must be at least four feet long.

"Smaller snakes are meaner and have a tendency to chew on you more," said a member of this year's snake dancers. The snakes have small teeth but seldom draw any blood.

Officials of this year's ceremonials concede it might not be fitting for a presidential candidate to dance around with a snake in his mouth. But they hope Goldwater can come back and narrate this year's festival.

"I suppose you won't have any time to come back for the Smoki ceremony if you get elected president," a charter Smoki said to Goldwater last year.

"Heck, if I ever get to be president we'll hold it on the White House lawn," quipped Goldwater.

Cuban Trade Quarantine Vote Is Near

WASHINGTON (AP)—The inter-American foreign ministers conference headed for a final showdown Thursday with a majority reportedly already decided to vote for a diplomatic and trade quarantine on Cuba.

All six foreign ministers who addressed the conference Wednesday supported Venezuela's demand for a stiff penalty on the Fidel Castro regime for subversion in Venezuela.

Mexico and Chile are expected to oppose the mandatory break in relations, but they are given little chance to change the indicated position of most of the conferees.

Brazil continued efforts to find a compromise solution to avoid a split with Mexico and Chile while satisfying most other member nations.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk asked the conference Wednesday to impose sanctions on Cuba, and urged a warning to the Castro regime that "the full weight of the regional security system will be applied" if it persists in subversion.

The governor votes at his home town of Kennett in Dunklin County but said he would not be there on election day and decided to vote absentee instead.

FBI Arrests Three For Violation Of Civil Rights Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents arrested three Mississippi white men today and charged them with violating the civil rights act by conspiring to keep a Negro from going to a movie.

Attorney Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the arrests are the first to be made in the wake of the civil rights act which became law earlier this month.

The three men, all residents of Greenwood, Miss., are Willie Amon Belk, 47; his son, Jimmy Allen Belk, 19, and Sam Allen Shaffer Jr., 40. All are employed in Belk's plumbing firm.

New York Another Symbol Of Racial Violence In U. S.

Scenes And Causes Appear The Same In Both Cases

NEW YORK (AP) — A little over a year ago, violence in the streets made Birmingham, Ala., an ugly symbol of racial strife.

Today, New York is another such symbol, only worse. You see essentially the same scenes — police clashing with crowds of Negroes, bricks and bottles flying, bloody and contorted faces, prostrate figures in the streets.

To a degree, the deep underlying causes of this are the same in New York as in Birmingham — Negro frustration, despair, resentment finally exploding into violence.

But at this point the comparison ends.

Evidence In Willoughby Murder Case

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP)—An FBI report disclosed Thursday that strands of brown hair of Caucasian origin were found in a car Clay County officers believe Andrew Jackson Walker was driving the day Mrs. Patricia Willoughby disappeared last October.

Sheriff Frank Maudlin said he received the FBI laboratory report and described as the most significant evidence in it several strands of hair were "definitely of Caucasian origin."

Maudlin said sworn statements of several witnesses have identified Walker, 38-year-old Kansas City Negro, as the one who was driving the car Oct. 9, the day Mrs. Willoughby disappeared.

Her body was found Oct. 25 in a cornfield about three miles south of Smithville.

Walker already has been charged with murder in the deaths last April of Mrs. Hattie Biscoe and her daughter, Mrs. Marion Biscoe, near Smithville.

Sheriff Maudlin pointed out the man who formerly owned the car in which the strands of hair were found had reported he loaned the car to Walker about the time of the Willoughby abduction and slaying.

A preliminary hearing for Walker in the death of Mrs. Hattie Biscoe will be held next Wednesday. Previously he had been bound over for trial in the slaying of Mrs. Marion Biscoe.

Vote With Majority

WASHINGTON (AP)—Missouri's Democratic senators voted with the majority Thursday as the Senate rejected 46-45 an amendment to the anti-poverty bill to bar the furnishing of federal funds for community action programs in a state without the consent of the governor.

The amendment was proposed by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt.

Kansas' Republican senators voted for the amendment.

Also voting against the amendment were Oklahoma's Democratic senators.

On Anti-Poverty

Senate Pushes To Pass Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's $962.5 million "war on poverty" bill moved toward expected passage Thursday night — surviving a major effort by allied Republicans and southern Democrats to water it down.

They suffered a one-vote defeat on a state's rights amendment. But two other amendments giving governors limited veto power passed.

The defeat was a turnabout of an earlier one-vote victory on the same amendment, and came just after Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate and opponent of the bill, had left the chamber. He did not vote on any of the limiting amendments in the close fight.

The amendment defeated was offered by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt. It would have given a governor or his designated official the right to bar federal financial assistance to city and town programs in his state.

Wednesday, administration forces accepted with some reluctance a state's rights amendment by Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., to give governors veto power over location of youth camps in their states. It was interpreted as a compromise to gain southern support.

Thursday, another Smathers amendment won, 80 to 7, to bar federal assistance to any private, nonprofit institution for carrying out the program in a state where the governor disapproved.

The prompt counterattack suggested Vietnamese servicemen finally were tightening their security precautions, reversing a trend toward casualness that has been openly deplored by their U.S. military advisers.

Seventeen of the troops were killed, 34 wounded. Three are missing. One of their 25 armored personnel carriers was destroyed.

But Vietnamese officers estimated their men killed 60 of the enemy, who have been staging ambushes lately on a one-day basis. They captured one of the Communists' guns, a 57mm recoilless cannon.

Several U.S. advisers were involved in the fight, which developed as the government column was rushing from the Trung Lap ranger station to the defense of a beleaguered outpost.

All the Americans were reported to have emerged unscathed.

In Birmingham, the objectives of the demonstrations were clear-cut and specific—desegregation of some department store facilities, better job opportunities, the release of those arrested for demonstration, and the formulation of a racial committee to adjudicate racial problems.

Sales And Earnings Reach Record High

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp., the nation's No. 1 automaker, reported Thursday record sales and earnings for the second quarter and first half of 1964.

It was the third automobile industry company to announce highest-ever sales and profits for the periods. Chrysler Corp. and Ford Motor Co. had reported earlier.

GM earned $602 million, equal to $2.11 a share, in the three months ended June 30. This compares with $464 million, or $1.62 a share, in the 1963 second quarter.

Blackwater Man Dies

BATES CITY, Mo. (AP)—A 77-year-old Blackwater, Mo., man was fatally injured Thursday in a traffic accident on U. S. 40, a mile and a half east of here.

The victim, Benjamin McClain, died in an Independence hospital about six hours after the accident. The Highway Patrol said McClain's car hit the rear of one driven by James Barker, 26, Odessa, Mo., on pavement made slick by a shower.

Barker was taken to a Lexington hospital for treatment of scalp lacerations.

The gunman wore knit mountaineer hoods which left only eyes and mouths visible. Witnesses saw them park in front of the store. Two sprang through the door of the shop, fired a warning blast into the floor and knocked down a clerk who was at the telephone. One held the manager and two other employees at gunpoint while the other man rifled the display.

Policeman Henri Natali approached to investigate the hooded truck driver, witnesses said. The driver honked the horn and Natali found himself grappling with a fourth man, who jumped from the truck.

As Natali almost succeeded in drawing his pistol, one of the gunmen blasted him at short range. Apparently thinking he would be a good hostage, they tried to load him into the truck but soon gave up and fled.

The band fired several bursts out the back of the truck to cover their flight. Orfeo Bonicchini, a gardener, was struck in the legs.

Owners of the shop estimated their losses in the four robberies in 10 years at $2.45 million.

Shepley To Support Barry For President

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ethan Shepley, a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, announced Wednesday he will support the GOP presidential nominee, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Shepley, a former Washington University chancellor, pledged his support during an interview on television station KSD-TV.

"Goldwater has been chosen the Republican candidate," Shepley explained, "and I intend to support him. I would certainly appear on the same campaign platform with him, if invited to do so."

"However, I will campaign in Missouri on state issues, which are my business," he added.

Weather Bureau Predicts 'Normal' Trend

Temperature Highest In Ten Years

Sedalia's long hot summer of 1954 was revived in memory with Wednesday's 2 p. m. high of 115 degrees. The temperature hit the 100 mark first this year on Monday afternoon.

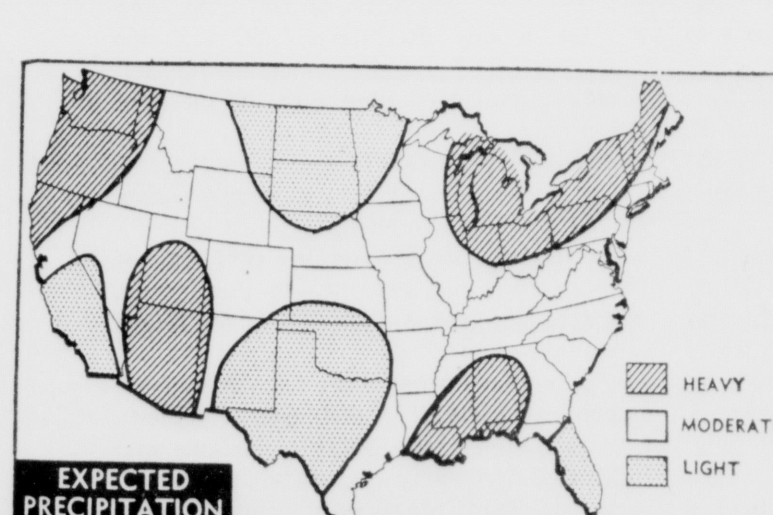

An all-time Missouri Public Service system peak of 183,000-050 kilowatt output demand was reached between 2 and 3 p. m. Wednesday. Harry Kull, district director for MPS, added that Western Electric's Lee's Summit plant is shut down for vacation. Had it been in operation, explained Kull, the peak would have been higher.

Last year's peak was 166,000 kilowatt output demand for the system which consists of 222 towns and communities, including Sedalia.

On July 14, 1954 The Sedalia Democrat banner headline shimmered before readers, proclaiming "Hottest Day Ever." After press time, when temperature had been at 115, the mercury climbed to 116. Sedalia had started a slow broil on June 25. During a period from that date until Sept. 5, temperatures

The Midwest and Northwest can expect cooler temperatures but it will be hot throughout rest of the country.

It'll be drier than ever in the Southwest. The remainder of the nation can expect near normal to heavy rainfall.

scorched the city with marks of more than 100 degrees for 29 days, with only token relief in between. The 4th and 5th of September, that year, temperatures were 101 and 100 degrees. Fifty days that summer melted away at 96 degrees or more.

Over 110 degree temperatures were reached in 1954's scorching July on the following dates: July 12, 113; July 13, 111; July 14, 116; July 15, 111. The next two days, the mercury dipped to 92 and 109 and climbed back up to 112 on the 18th. By New Year's Eve, Sedalia still had not cooled down past the 10 degree mark.

Many people tried to combat the weather by consuming record quantities of water, in drinking, bathing and watering the lawns. Air conditioners ran electrical wattage up and swimming pools and cooled theaters drew record crowds.

Combined with three previous years, Sedalia in 1954 was short 16.26 of normal moisture and grasshoppers invaded the area to complicate area farmers' drought conditions.

Last year, 100 degree thermometer marks were untouched.

In 1962, Aug. 19, at 101 and Aug. 20, at 103 were the most temperate high degrees.

Water consumption this year is running normally, at about 50,000,000 gallons a month, thus far. Swimming pool attendance is up at Liberty Park. Over average attendances of 1,557 on Tuesday and 1,378 on Wednesday day were recorded there. Hubbard pool swimmers have increased from an average 50 to 75.

Cloud cover over west central Missouri Thursday morning provided the first real relief for the area in over a week, but the official thermometer reading at noon in Sedalia was still at a warm 86.

The Democrat-Capital weather data is furnished by the State Fair Floral Co., official observatory for the Weather Bureau.

How the Grass Doth Grow

Not lately, but sometime back, frequent pleas were heard from downtown merchants that Sedalia should have a shopping mall where motor vehicles would be banned; where pedestrians could walk peacefully through an area festooned with flowers and bedecked with shrubbery; where the weary might rest beside a cool, running fountain in contemplation of the beneficence of those who created Utopia for tired shoppers.

Such an improvement is considered as one of many inducements for downtown shoppers not to become alienated by more distant attractions. However the mall idea never quite jelled on Ohio avenue.

In the meantime, starting more than a year ago, a proposal was initiated for the city to buy the old St. Louis Clothing Co., building at Second street and Ohio avenue, and two buildings east, for the purpose of a core area parking lot. Some verbal dust arose over this project but when it settled the city had acquired the property.

Thereafter, razing of the buildings began and soon the old landmarks were no more. The dismantling work, filling and leveling of the ground, while it lasted provided some occupational therapy for sidewalk superintendents.

Habitués of the downtown shopping district fully expected then to see paving begin and parking meters installed so the area could fulfill its destiny as a magnet to shoppers seeking close-in parking facilities.

But the fertile earth used for the fill at Second and Ohio responded to a more natural destiny, that of nurturing the seeds of wire grass and some mixed vegetation. This grew abundantly for weeks without disturbance until the city had to mow down the growth to keep within its own ordinance restrictions about letting the tall grass grow too tall.

Since the lots have remained so long useless for the purpose intended, and are also aesthetically negative, some one has suggested converting the area into a miniature mall with loafing benches and all that sort of thing. Another asks, what about the shade? Why, there is a long stretch of it up against the north wall of the Little Red Shoe Barn — ideal for bench sitters almost as though they were sitting under the shade of the old apple tree.

But aside from levity, there are real prospects that the core area parking lot will someday be operative when the city gets around to finishing the job. Reasons for the delay may be explained in city council meeting Monday night. This, providing discussion of the more important issue — garbage — doesn't take up the whole evening.

GOP Control Shifts South and West

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — There is one all-important deduction to be drawn from the manner in which Barry Goldwater crushed the moderate wing of the Republican party in San Francisco.

The power balance of the Republican party has shifted from the houses of Morgan and Rockefeller and the Ivy League aristocracy which reared its sons in the spirit of public service to the country club set and the intolerant new rich.

And despite the talk of progressive Republicans now organizing to retain control of the party, it will take a long time to get control back. The era of "know-nothingism" in the Grand Old Party is going to be with us for a good many years to come.

Twelve years ago the conservative wing of the party, under Sen. Robert A. Taft—a liberal compared to Goldwater—went out in advance to corral delegates and came to the 1952 Chicago convention with a clear majority. But Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who had no idea what it was all about, swung the balance of power back to the liberals. The man who really accomplished this was Thomas E. Dewey, who used the power of the Chase Manhattan Bank and its Rockefeller owners, the might of U. S. Steel, Ford Motors and other moderate industrialists, to manipulate control away from the conservative, isolationist west back to the more liberal, internationally-minded east.

Power Has Shifted

But that was twelve years ago. In twelve years, the economic power of the nation has shifted, and along with it has shifted the political power.

Today, California, not New York, is the biggest state in the union. Today, the Bank of America in California, not the Chase Manhattan Bank in New York, is the biggest bank in the world. Today Kaiser Aluminum, with headquarters in San Francisco, is the second biggest aluminum company in the U.S.A.; while Pacific Gas and Electric is approximately ten times larger than any other utility in the United States.

Likewise Texas—with its missile and electronics industry given it in part by the one-time Texas senator who now sits in the

THE LEDGER STAR (Norfolk, Va.): Hand It to NASA.—In their scientific determination not to contaminate other bodies in space with earth microbes, experts with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration are considering a ban on baths for the technicians who will work on spacecraft designed for planetary travel.

It seems that right after taking a bath human beings scatter more germs around than if they hadn't bathed. They're turned loose by the washing away of body oils or something.

So, to the adventure and glamour of space travel we are now to add bathless jobs for the ground crews. That's really looking ahead in this matter of space recruitment. We can't imagine a small boy anywhere who won't decide promptly and irrevocably that the space program's the thing for him when he grows up.

at 321 East Second street. Mrs. L. E. Edgington is the matron. There are at present 30 children being cared for.

White House—carries a terrific economic punch. New banks, new industry have sprung up all over the west and southwest. They don't need eastern capital anymore.

No longer can a Wall Street bank phone a western bank and threaten to cut off deposits if the GOP delegates to the convention don't switch from Goldwater to Scranton. It could be done—and was done—on behalf of Eisenhower twelve years ago. But it can't be done anymore.

Rockefeller money is still potent. But it has gone to build Negro colleges—$40,000,000 of it in the last 20 years—together with hospitals, and to endow medical research. And Rockefeller oil money is now controlled by corporations which must carefully answer to stockholders.

The wildcat, independent oil money, in contrast, doesn't have to worry about stockholders. This is the money that poured in to support the late Sen. Joe McCarthy, and it's the money that gave Goldwater his amazing largesse today. A lot of it, incidentally, isn't even filed with the clerk of the Senate, as required by law.

Tactics of Penetration

This new political money generally comes from the white Protestant country club set which doesn't understand the problems of the big city, the struggles of immigrants and minority groups, the plight of the Negro—nor does it much care.

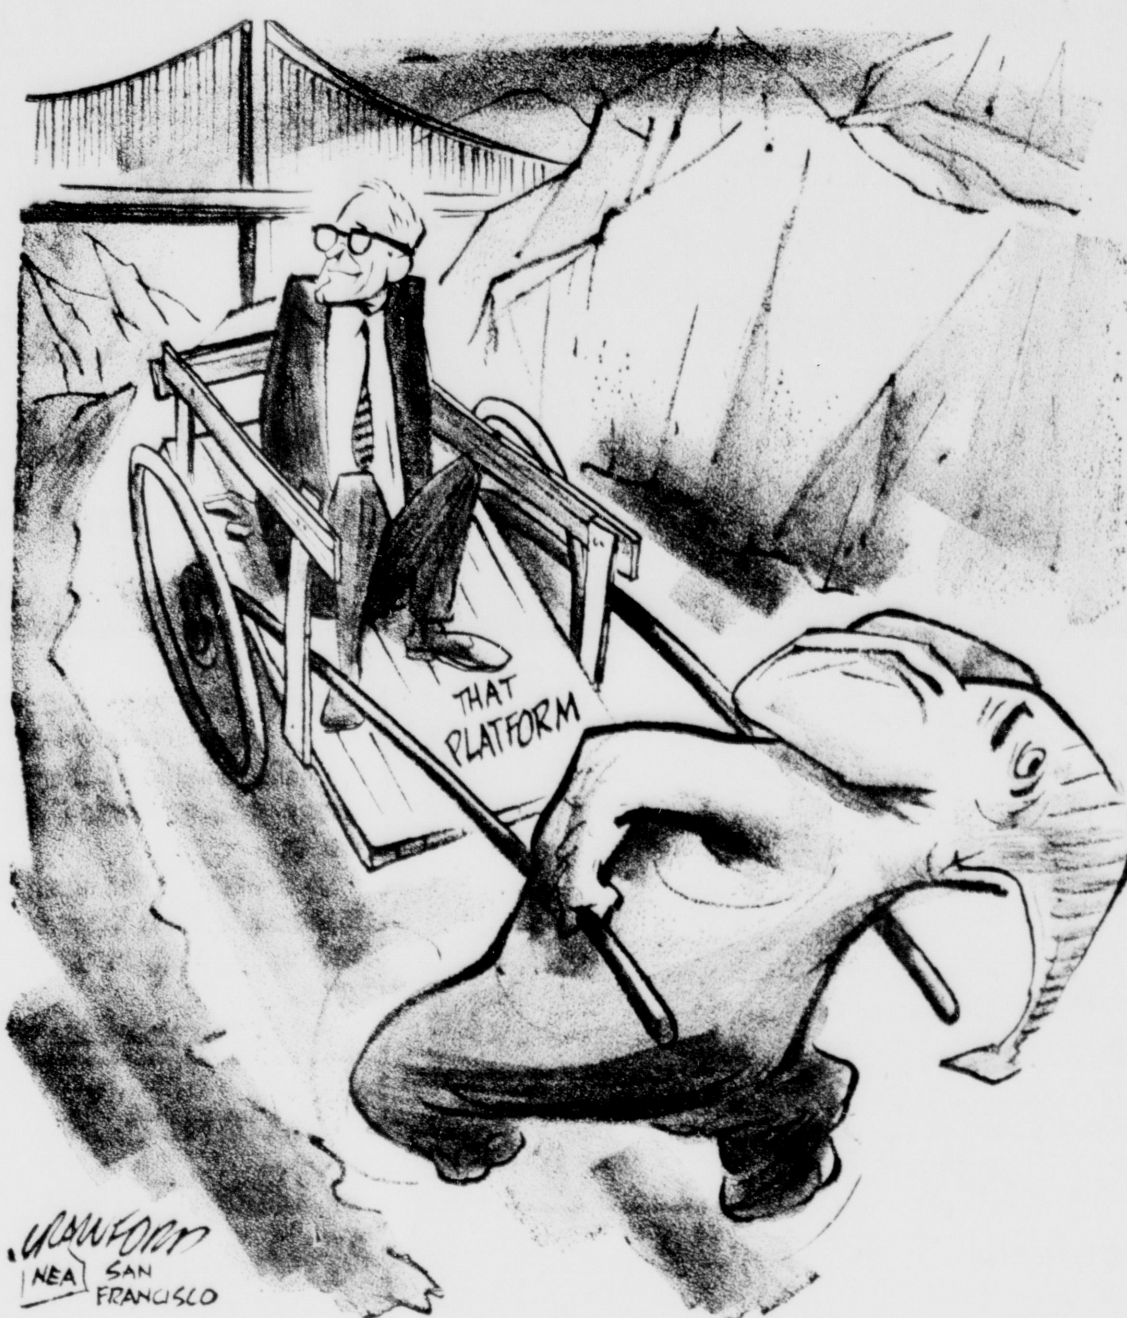

This has now become the backbone of the Republican party. It was its energetic members under energetic Barry Goldwater who infiltrated the party caucuses long in advance of San Francisco convention using the old tactics of penetration while only a few members were present.

And having seized control by these tactics, this powerhouse of the Republican party, though still a minority, will be difficult to dislodge.

This was the roaring, stamping crowd chanting "We want Barry" which drowned out the scion of the Rockefeller family, the leading representative of the liberal wing, in San Francisco. It was a crowd that did not represent the real membership of the Republican party.

Nevertheless, it is here, and it will now represent the liberal party of Lincoln and Teddy Roosevelt for a long time to come.

Housecoat Over Dress?

By Polly Cramer
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—I really enjoy the hints and use many of them in my church work. My minister husband and I are often invited to teas, receptions, banquets and the like, often 30 or 40 miles from our home. No matter how clean the car it seemed I always arrived at our destination with a smudge on my dress. Now when I am completely dressed and ready to go I slip on my old housecoat over my dress, put my clean gloves in the pocket and when we arrive both dress and gloves are spotless. If you want to drive the neighbors into a frenzy let them see you go out in high heels, picture hat and your old housecoat. — MRS. P. M.

GIRLS—I would certainly like to drop into Rev. P. M.'s church to hear a sermon if he has the same delightful sense of humor as his wife. Her letter caused me to think of a friend of my mother who, many years ago, always stood up on the streetcar so she would arrive at her destination minus any wrinkles in her dress.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—Before dry cleaning and storing boys' wool trousers and coats, I open up the pants cuff and sleeve hems so that all the material will be thoroughly cleaned. Next season I set the cuffs and hems to fit the growing child. Press with a steam iron and there will be no dirty creases that dry cleaning failed to reach. The same applies to little girls' top coats, woolen skirts and so on. — MARGARET

DEAR POLLY—While painting the bathroom, I was faced with the problem of keeping paint from splattering on my bathtub. I hit upon the idea of running some water in the tub, putting open newspapers into the water to dampen them and then placing these sheets along the side of the tub. They stay put while wet and remain wet long enough for me to paint over the tub area. No pins, no drop cloths, no masking tape to mess with and when the job is finished I just roll up the paper and throw it away.—MRS. E. M.

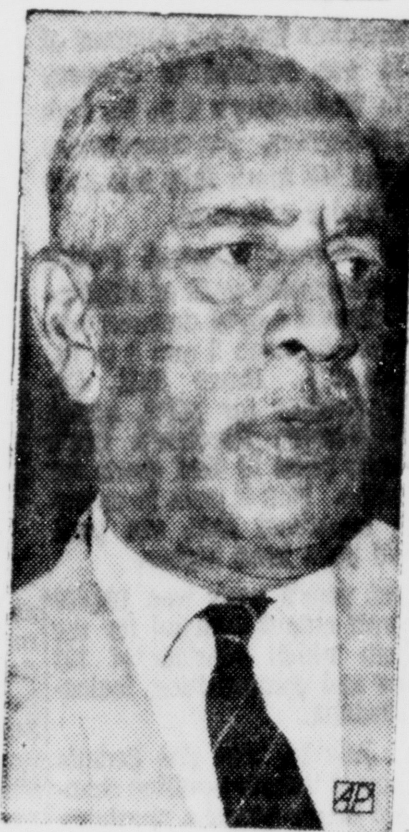

DEAR POLLY—Will you or your readers please tell me how to store books for a few years without them becoming damaged by mildew or insects?—MRS. F.

GIRLS—and Mrs. F.—Dampness usually causes most of the damage to books. They should be stored in a dry place and if stored in a bookcase with doors, a small light can be kept burning frequently to retain the dryness.

A Department of Agriculture bulletin suggests putting silica gel in with books to absorb moisture. Of course, they should be clean before being stored. Air and ventilation are important for the preservation of books. Mrs. F. did not say what sort of bindings her books have but the public library informed us that leather covers require special care and need an occasional going over with either equal parts of neat's-foot oil and castor oil or white medicated petroleum jelly.

Apply with the palm of the hand, cheesecloth or chamois (the library prefers the latter) and spread quickly and smoothly over the cover. Allow the application to soak in and after several hours (or the next day) repeat the process. This treatment may leave a slightly uneven effect on the book cover but the library official felt the preservation of the leather cover was more important.—POLLY

FINDING THE WAY

My Brother's Keeper?

BY RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"Young woman murdered while 38 people look on and do nothing."

"Woman assaulted in apartment building; screams heard but unreported."

"Boy drowns in swimming pool; bystanders see but no one tries to save."

Those are headlines that shock our supposedly sophisticated nation, reminding us that our age of gadgets confronts some difficult moral problems. These are the crude caricatures of the deeper problem, the reminders of the preoccupation with a self that denies community.

A woman phoned the other day wondering whether the problem isn't that law-enforcement agencies demand that a caller identify himself. She had reported a suspicious incident, was asked to give name and address and was reluctant to do so. Her own predicament illustrated the difficulty. It is this unwillingness to stand up and be counted which plagues the hesitant. It is this desire for anonymity unless we can be sure and certain that it's going to be the safe and secure thing to do which prevents forthright action. We fear involvement.

The moral issue is as old as Cain and Abel and as ancient as Jesus' recounting of the busy persons who passed by a wounded Jew and left him by the side of the road.

There is a difference between moral involvement and mere busyboddiness. The busybody is the person who interferences without wisdom, interferences without understanding, becoming merely a petty gossip. His selfishness is not transcended; it is just transferred into a kind of ineffective chatter.

The involved human being has been able to see himself in relation to his neighbor. If he knows the meaning of love he will help for the sheer response to another's need. If he doesn't know that love, he will help because he knows that no one is safe when his neighbor is not safe.

We are horrified at our own selves, dismayed when we realize that persons in our own polite American society can see the horror of such incidents and do nothing. What would any of us have done? And what do we do when we turn deaf ears to problems of racial intolerance? What do we do when we tolerate social situations in any of our cities which lead up to such degradation? What do we do when we hide in our own households, insulating ourselves from the hurts of others?

The judgment of the New Testament is sharp and unmistakable: "Whoever says that he loves God and hates his neighbor, is a liar."

THE WELL CHILD

Wild Animals Fascinate Children, and Bite Them

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.,
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Children are fascinated by animals. But whether in a zoo, a national park or in the woods it must be remembered that animals are wild and may suddenly bite. I emphasize this because often bears and other animals appear to be very friendly.

Friendliness in bears, however, may turn to anger if you refuse them food, if you give them food but they want more and think you are holding out on them, or if you get too friendly with their cubs.

When traveling in a national park, therefore, the only safe procedure is to keep car windows closed, stay a safe distance from all wild animals, and don't attempt to feed them or play games with their young.

Often a fox, squirrel or other wild animal that appears to be friendly is just too sick to follow his better judgment and run. The natural instinct of all wild animals is to get out of your way unless taken suddenly by surprise.

Thus the "friendly" rabbit may have tularemia and the "friendly" fox may have rabies. Indeed, if you or your child is bitten by a wild creature and the animal escapes, you must assume that it had rabies and take prophylactic vaccine. If you kill the animal, you can have its brain examined for signs of rabies. If there are none, you will have one less worry.

Even if the animal is not rabid the bite may result in a nasty infection unless prompt steps are taken to clean the wound. The most important first step is thorough cleansing with soap and water.

If a soap containing hexachlorophene is available, use it.

Don't put iodine on the wound. After cleansing, cover it with the cleanest bandage available. Call your doctor. Then, when all the crying and excitement has subsided, make sure your child has learned his lesson and will not provoke an animal bite in the future.

Q — My 3-year-old daughter has never had her hair cut but it is short and very silky. My friends say that, if I have her head shaved, her hair will grow faster but I don't want to do it because it took three years for her to get what little she's got now. What do you think?

A — Your daughter's scanty slow-growing hair may be a normal variation or it may be due to an excess of vitamin A in her diet or a hormonal imbalance. In any case, although it has long been believed that cutting or shaving the hair will increase the rate of growth, this myth has been completely exploded.

School and You

Aid for School Switchers

By Susan Light
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LIGHT:—My husband is a career army man, which necessitates our moving frequently. Our daughter started first grade in Maryland and is finishing the year in Ohio. Then we will move to the Panama Canal Zone.

Her last report card wasn't nearly as good as the one she received in her former school. For instance, she dropped from A to C in arithmetic. The arithmetic program is entirely different here. I know she will pass, but I'm still worried sick about the whole thing. She often comes home and cries about things she doesn't understand.

What can I do to help her? When I think about the many times she will change schools before she graduates from high school, I wonder what the outcome will be.

—ARMY MOTHER
ANSWER: Whatever you do, don't pass your anxiety on to your daughter. She needs our reassurance and encouragement.

By all means, talk with her teacher as soon as possible and follow any suggestions she may have. When you leave this year—and in the future—ask the teacher to write a personal note to her successor, outlining the work your daughter has covered and the textbooks used. She may be willing, also, to explain the reason for the drop in her arithmetic grade.

The arithmetic program may be different again in her next school. Knowing the basic facts in addition and subtraction, however, will help her in any system. Flash cards are effective for this type of rote learning. Reasoning and understanding may have to wait until she settles down long enough to gain some knowledge of basic mathematical concepts.

As the years go on, what your daughter learns about the world and the people in it will more than compensate for any gaps in her formal education. She is indeed privileged! Let her know and appreciate it.

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: My son's report card has the following notation from his teacher: "The improvement in his reading and arithmetic are noticeable. His writing is still poor, but he tries hard."

How can our children learn correct grammar and spelling from teachers like this?—DISGUSTED
ANSWER: I've often wondered myself. In my opinion, schools and colleges should put more emphasis on basic English.

J. Crawford Holding Up First Film

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Joan Crawford showed me her latest picture in her hospital room.

It was an X-ray of her chest. She has been felled twice by pneumonia in a month.

"How's that for a shot of the new topless bathing suit?" she asked, proudly displaying the congestion over her rib cage.

"I liked you better in 'Mildred Pierce,'" said I.

"But these are unretouched," she quipped back.

Joan's doctor called her a very sick girl but added that the pneumonia didn't bother her as much as missing work.

Joan and Bette Davis are re-teamed in "Hush . . . Hush, Sweet Charlotte." Their "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane" was last year's boxoffice sensation.

"You know," said Joan, "this is the first time in my long career that I have ever held up a picture."

She was wearing a hospital gown by Dior, a $110,000 sapphire necklace, and her room was filled with flowers, stacks of fan mail and telegrams.

One of the latter, from Bob Hope, read: "I told you it's okay to bottle the stuff but you shouldn't have picked up those heavy cases."

Joan is a member of the board of directors of the Pepsi Cola Co. Her late husband, Alfred Steele was chairman of the board.

The supper hour approached and Joan invited me to stay. I never cared much for hospital food but I should have known better with Joan.

She picked up the phone and called Louis, maitre d' at Chasen's, and ordered dinner for two sent over.

HE MADE IT — Pupils must swim across the deep end of the pool and return to the starting point before they receive their certificates. Amid the cheers of fellow pupils, the youth above made the grade.

Later on in the course the students themselves used the proper method of kicking to help pass their tests.

AT HUBBARD—A class at Hubbard Pool pays attention as the instructor, Art Wiggins, shows the proper way to kick while in the water.

Nearly 1,000 Learning To Swim In '64

By Ralph Jones

No one can say how many people have NOT drowned, because of swimming skills learned in the Red Cross swimming classes held in Sedalia since the program was initiated in 1950. The record does show that the nationwide program has greatly reduced the number of people who DO drown.

The Red Cross Water Safety Program began just 50 years ago, on a national level, and was started in Sedalia Aug. 16, 1940 — but actual swimming classes started in 1950 — with the appointment of Ruth Ann Slave as chairman of the Water Safety and Life Saving program, an educational project sponsored by the Sedalia Red Cross Chapter. Cooperating with the chairman was Stanton Hudson, Jr., who had attended the National Aquatic School at Lake Taneycomo in June of that year.

Swimming instruction was started in 1950 with the opening of the Liberty Park and Hubbard Park swimming pools. Henry Sutton, who had attended the aquatic school and had been appointed chairman of Water Safety in 1948, was instrumental in organizing the initial swimming classes, with 160 enrolled. He was active in the program until he resigned in 1962.

In the 14 years the program has been in effect here, enrollment has grown from the original 160 to a total of 953 at Liberty Park and 16 at Hubbard Park this year.

The classes have grown to the extent that two periods are necessary. The first period ran from June 16 through July 3, and the second period is running from July 7 through July GAMES—Out in the water with their instructors the children form circles and play games that are designed to teach the fundamentals of swimming. "Keep the fun in the fundamentals," said the originator of the program, Commodore Wilbert E. Longfellow, just 50 years ago.

In addition to the swimming program, two life saving classes have been scheduled for this summer. The first class, Junior Life Saving, will be held July 6-17, and the second class, Senior Life Saving, will be held July 20-31.

When the swimmers have successfully completed the course they are issued a Red Cross Swimmer badge and accompanying certificate. The life savers are issued badges and certificates for the course they successfully complete.

The Red Cross Water Safety program owes its beginning to Wilbert E. Longfellow, known as Commodore Longfellow, a newspaper reporter who became interested in water safety at the turn of the century. He promoted water safety through newspaper and magazine articles until he took over the new Red Cross program in 1914, and worked with the program for 33 years.

The service grew and expanded until in 1963 more than 2-million people participated in the program.

More people than ever before take part in water sports and recreation for many reasons. Primary reasons are the expansion of water areas adaptable to recreation through the tremendous upsurge in water impoundments completed in the past 20 years, and the fact that these areas are within reach of almost every American.

BREATHING—This youngster is taught by his instructor how to breathe while swimming, under the watchful eyes of his instructor.

Vows to Pacify Viet Nam

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
BEN TRE, South Viet Nam (AP)—"I have staked my name on the prediction that this province will be pacified by the end of 1966, and I intend to do it."

The speaker was Col. Tran Ngoc Chau, civil and military chief of Kien Hoa Province. It is in the heart of the Mekong River delta, 45 miles southwest of Saigon.

Kien Hoa is only one of the 43 provinces in which the battle for South Viet Nam is raging, but it is a vital one.

"As Kien Hoa goes, so goes the nation," American advisers have said.

In neighboring Go Cong Province a U.S. officer had this to say: "Right now, five-sixths of this province are securely in Viet Cong hands. Outside the town of Go Cong we only control a few hamlets. But roads and bridges are opening up, and a good start has been made. We have high hopes."

In Dinh Tuong Province, a little to the west U. S. and Vietnamese officers are there under a strict new set of definitions, none of the province can be considered pacified, not even My Tho, its capital.

Farther to the north in Long An Province, only 20 miles south of Saigon, government authorities feel they control only 20 per cent of the population.

This dismal percentage persists even though four battalions of battle-hardened troops are now tied down in Long An for pacification while others roam the province seeking out the enemy.

But even in Long An the gloomiest local observers feel the corner may have been turned and government control is on the way up.

Ultimately, many officials feel predictions of over-all victory over the Viet Cong by 1968 may not be unreasonable.

It all hinges on the success of the new grand national plan for "pacification," which went into effect this spring. Defenders and critics of the plan are in general agreement that if this plan doesn't work, probably nothing will.

Under a stringent new set of definitions as to what constitutes a pacified hamlet, many American advisers believe none of South Viet Nam could really meet the test.

These criteria include the following: All hamlet residents screened and secret Communist cell members and their functions identified; local hamlet forces picked, trained and armed; obstacles to further Viet Cong infiltration set up; communications with other hamlets established; inhabitants organized into groups of self-help teams; and hamlet leaders chosen by free election.

U.S. military and civilian advisers everywhere in the Mekong delta say they see a growing danger of rushing the job.

"We're starting from scratch now because all the work done under the Ngo Dinh Diem regime was so rushed it accomplished next to nothing. The thousands of strategic hamlets built in such a rush under Diem turned out to be nothing but statistics when the chips were down," an American said.

Conference Call Pushed To The Side

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials have brushed aside as wholly unacceptable President Charles de Gaulle's new call Thursday for an international conference, including the United States, the Soviet Union and Red China, to make peace in Southeast Asia.

Rejecting De Gaulle's argument that a military solution in South Viet Nam is impossible, officials said a conference is beyond serious U.S. consideration until at least a new military balance is created in South Viet Nam.

The U.S.-French dispute over Southeast Asian policy is longstanding.

It came acute earlier this year when De Gaulle's outspoken advocacy of neutralization for Southeast Asia was interpreted in South Viet Nam as an active move toward ending the war there under conditions which would neutralize South Viet Nam but not North Viet Nam.

Washington officials now feel that the danger of undermining the anti-Communist war effort has been overcome by the strong stand taken by the United States against neutralization under any conditions now practically foreseeable.

Officials reiterated the argument frequently made in recent months by Secretary of State Dean Rusk that the main problem in Southeast Asia arises from the unwillingness of Communist China and Communist North Viet Nam to "leave their neighbors alone."
